

Truman Planning To Gag Wallace

had the opportunity to be familiar with the views of his commerce secretary when Mr. Wallace checked his New York speech with him before delivery. Mr. Wallace, in a press conference last Thursday he expressed the whole thing, and, when asked whether it did not conflict with the foreign policy line followed by State Secretary Byrnes, replied it was exactly in line. But on Saturday the president's approval extended only to Mr. Wallace's right to deliver the speech.

These details were learned from two administration officials:

1. Mr. Wallace, already at work on his scheduled speech to the American People's Conference in Providence, R.I., hoped to have it ready to take to the conference with the president. His plan to seek presidential approval of this address previously was made without knowledge of Mr. Truman's decision on a subpoena on his cabinet status.

2. The president is deeply concerned over the effect of Mr. Wallace's foreign policy declaration, fearful that other governments might begin to act on the basis of it. The U.S. government is split over its relations with Mr. Wallace.

3. Through Will Clayton, undersecretary of state, who was with him last Tuesday, Mr. Truman has sent a message to Mr. Byrnes asking him to check Mr. Wallace's speech for its bearing on U.S. policy and to understand the Wallace controversy.

Mr. Byrnes has maintained silence. 4. Mr. Truman's stated approval—later withdrawn—of Mr. Wallace's New York speech, which touched off the uproar being explained by the president's aides as having been given after hearing only a disjointed report of the text. Because of frequent interruptions to handle other matters, he said, he did not discover the explosive nature of the address.

In responding to the question as to whether Mr. Truman said he had agreed to approve Mr. Wallace's speech, Mr. Wallace said he had the right to deliver the speech. This statement in turn was quoted by Mr. Wallace as indicating a presidential order for him to carry on his campaign.

Thus the commerce secretary stepped up on Monday with his own statement that he intended to make more speeches on foreign policy than the president presumably the one set for Providence.

Shaw Opposes Executing Nazis

LONDON, (AP)—George Bernard Shaw asserted Tuesday the Allies have no ethical right to execute Nazi defendants awaiting the international military tribunals verdict in Nuremberg.

"The atomic bomb has blown our moral air out of court," the 89-year-old playwright said in reply to a written question.

After using the bomb without warning or demonstration, and repeating B. unnecessarily, we are hardly in a moral position to hang anybody, however logically."

Shaw, a writer which a slight shakiness of hand, Shaf said, "I agree with Dr. Inge."

He referred to recent expressions, published in a London newspaper, by Dr. W. R. Inge, the celebrated former "Grimy Dean" of St. Paul's Cathedral.

"The tribunal," Dr. Inge summarized, "should have a calm and well-documented statement of the crimes and should then let the (Nazi) defendants go with the threat of Guilt on their foreheads."

Perhaps the Jew-baiter (Julius Streicher) and one or two of the defendants should be executed, but not the majority.

This publication of the doctor's views touched off a letter-writing controversy in which other distinguished clergymen, prominent lawyers and educators took part, as well as many ordinary newspaper readers have been taking part. A majority of the published opinions have been against Dr. Inge and his supporters.

Shaw has no much more stored for home consumption that last year's light grave crop is not likely to prove seasons.

Poland Hurries To 'Revitalize' Newly-Gained Western Areas

BRESLAU, (ONA)—The Polish government is moving full speed ahead to revitalize the 14,000 square kilometers of Germany plus East Prussia and Danzig "initially awarded to Poland under the Potsdam agreement."

The Warsaw government has two-fold incentive to quick action. There is fear that reconstruction of the area will be slow to reverse the Brest-Litovsk and the Polish people that these western territories are more valuable to the nation than the area lost to the Russians.

Musicians Return To 41 N.Y. Hotels

CHICAGO, (AP)—James C. Petrie, president of the A.F.L. American Federation of Musicians said Tuesday a musicians' strike against 41 New York City hotels had been settled and the musicians would go back to work in New York and other United States cities affected by sympathy strikers.

Terms of the settlement of the 10-day strike, Mr. Petrie said, included a 20 percent salary increase. The union had demanded a 25 percent increase, and hotel management generally had offered 12 1/2 percent.

Shortage are pressing in the western farmlands. The "retreated" territory includes an estimated 18,000 square kilometers of arable land separated into some 200,000 farms. More than a million farmers are needed to cultivate this land adequately. Of those already in the land, most have come over from the eastern territory annexed by the Soviet union.

The war devastation of this agricultural area is so great that the recovery has barely started. Nevertheless, it is still possible to recognize its higher pre-war standard. The clearer and more orderly villages, the sturdier buildings and the greater extent of electrification are immediately apparent to anyone coming from the east. It is on this that the government bases its contention that when these recovered lands have been rehabilitated, the economic standard of the average Pole will be double his pre-war standard. It then perhaps the Polish people will be satisfied that they have received "just compensation" for the territory lost to the Russians.

Seven Schools Crowded Double Shifts Necessary

Substantial increase in the number of primary students enrolled in Edmonton public schools this year, has necessitated the introduction of double shifts at highlands.

School Officials Accept Proposal to Move Offices

Edmonton Public School Board Tuesday night accepted "with reluctance" the proposal of the Board of Education that the Board offices be moved from their present situation in the Civic Block to the old police station on 98 street.

The decision to move the school board offices was made at a City Council meeting Tuesday afternoon, and the board was advised by letter that the move must be effected by Nov. 1.

It is estimated that cost of repairs to the building, which was used during the war years as a Salvation Army armory, would amount to approximately $20,000.

Doubts were expressed by the school board that the building would be ready for occupancy by Nov. 1, and a committee composed of J. Macdonald, R. S. Sheppard and H. G. Turner was named to meet city commissioners and discuss the proposed move with them.

An offer by the city council, granting the school board use of the City Chamber for their board meetings, was rejected, due to the insistence that any arrangement would involve it having reference files on hand during board meetings.

Fuel Station Here For East Air Route

Edmonton will be a principal refuelling station on the new "northwest aerial passage" to the Orient, over which huge four-engine passenger planes will be flying in the near future, J. E. Woodhead, Minneapolis, operations manager for Northwest Airlines, said in an interview here Tuesday.

Mr. Woodhead, accompanied by R. L. Smith, vice-president of eastern region of the system, arrived here Tuesday afternoon, and will be the vice-president for operations, and seven technical experts, to inspect the Edmonton Tuesday on a survey flight from Minneapolis to Anchorage.

"We hope to make the first survey flights over the route early in December," Mr. Woodhead said.

These survey flights will be made with Douglas DC 4s four-engine, 44-passenger planes which will be the equipment used in the first stages of the new service from the United States to Manila in the Philippines. Later we plan to operate the big double-deck Boeing transport Cruisers on the route. We have 12 of these planes on order now."

Regular passenger service should start early in 1947.

Edmonton will be the first stop on the route when scheduled flights from the U.S. to the Orient commence, Mr. Woodhead stated. The next will be at Anchorage, Alaska. Whether there will be another refuelling stop at Seattle, Vancouver or Honolulu will be decided during the surveys now in progress.

"We are highly interested in Edmonton as a highly important centre on the new air route," Mr. Woodhead said.

Tuesday the Northwest Airlines officials held a conference with Mayor Harry Ainlay, other city officials and James Bell, manager of the city airport.

The conference was on various facilities that Northwest Airlines will require for their new service to the Orient.

Without disclosing just what these are, Mr. Woodhead explained it was:

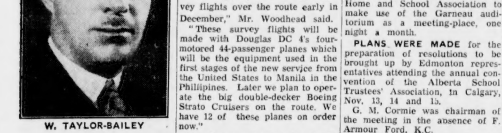

"We told them what we will require here and now and a reply to our letter will be received here at the Edmonton airport. It now just a question of having these facilities made available to us."

MR. SMITH WILL be in charge of the operations between the city and Anchorage.

Northwest Airlines will have offices in the city and a downtown office as well, Mr. Woodhead stated.

Mr. Woodhead is no stranger to Edmonton, having been the chief civilian executive for the company for the past five years, during which time, when Northwest had many transport planes under contract to the city.

"The officials were leaving early yesterday for their headquarters in their two-engine Douglas DC 3s."

Wants Children Raised in Homes

LONDON, Sept. 18 (CP)—Children deprived of normal parental care should be raised in private homes, not institutions, says the home office committee on the care of children.

If it is found impossible to do this on a large scale, the committee recommends establishment of small family centres "radiating the atmosphere of an average large home."

Local Council of Women Plans Work for Winter

When members of the Edmonton Local Council of Women, representing many and varied organizations of women in the city, meet for the first meeting of the season in the YWCA clubroom Thursday, Sept. 24 at 2:30 p.m., they will hear an address by Mrs. Grace Knight, Dominion president of the YWCA. She will speak on the recent convention held in Regina.

Mrs. W. E. Stewart, president, will preside.

Program of study and work for the coming year was mapped out at an executive meeting of the council held last Thursday. As was the practice last year, the council will hear addresses by leading figures in civic life at their monthly meetings, in addition to passing resolutions and urging action for the common good in national and civic life.

One question destined to come up for discussion is an objection to threatened rise in cost of milk, the feeling being that the cost is enough at present and any further cost will put an extra burden on the family and might result in children not being able to have the milk they need.

Their policy, as stated by Mrs. W. E. Stewart, Wednesday morning would be in protest to any rise in cost of any commodity necessary to maintenance of health, and to the figure in civic life at their monthly meetings, in addition to passing resolutions and urging action for the common good in national and civic life.

you don't appreciate it."

"I do," she said. "I declared

"WED better stop getting over to

"You're on the Terry case, aren't you?"

"Oh, no," said the nurse, handing her coffee.

"Oh, no," said Sally told him, continuing to drink her coffee. "I'm the part of her horizon but I take it as changing momentarily."

The windows were creeping out from the terrace and the intense blue of the sky was fading into the pale blue of the quiet water beneath. Melrose was looking at the sky.

...A. S. Goldsmith of Cleveland (about) tramped. He left back the trunk and the queen, Jack and ten of the hands, on which Goldsmith ordered the six, three and ten of the set.

"Then you—then Bess and I just have to go," said Sally. "I didn't tell you yet?" Carolyn didn't smile.

"The probably knew you wouldn't come if you knew I was involved," said Sally. "I'm a young man pointed out. 'As it is, I'm not going to go.'"

This was all merely coincidental to the fact that the two of you very active conference need cause you no least quality."

"I've never even thought that," Sally said promptly. "But when placed made for one guest and two extra ones are thrust upon me, I'm not going to be a patient or unpleasant."

"You just hint that to your host—"

Raise Big Share Of Pension Fund

MONTREAL (CP) — Contributions or pledges totalling 6.7 per cent of the $3,100,000 United Church of Canada pension fund allocation have been received, it was reported Tuesday to the 12th general council of the United Church.

Rev Cyril Adams of Montreal, who headed the pension fund campaign, told clergymen and laymen at the biennial meeting $72,000 more is to be raised. A motion that the executive of the pension fund campaign committee be asked to continue its work was approved.

Mr. Adams said $1,623,000 in cash and $1,000,000 in pledges had been received in the committee in Toronto, while $1,747,000 in pledges of cash, in the hands of provincial chairmen and local treasurers, was outstanding.

About 30 percent of the members of the Canadian armed forces during the war had little or no connection with any church, Rev W. Franklin Baillie of Toronto told the council, in presenting a statement from the church's chaplains.

These non-churchmen came both from urban centres and from sections of Canada in the north and in the west where the church never has been properly established. They were not antagonistic towards the chaplains or religion, the statement said, but for the most part were simply apathetic.

The chaplains' statement said of the enlisted members classified as churchmen, of Protestant affiliation, many were indifferent to denominationalism and "talked no action to being lumped together with other Protestants at church parades."

As regards qualities of life, the chaplains were superior to the non-churchmen. In the main, they honored women and believed in sexual virtue. Crimes were rarely committed by those who had attended Sunday school in their youth. They usually drank in moderation, but in the main rejected the doctrine that total abstinence is a Christian virtue. The United churchmen drank in proportion to men of other religious bodies.

At a post-war program Dr. Baillie suggested friendliness and warmth in church services; unity of thought and action; more Christ-like preaching; more accessible ministers, with frequent contact with men; an early union of Protestant communions; insistence on the relevance of the church to every phase of life.

Tells U. S. Attempt On Churchill's Life

NEW YORK (AP) — Winston Churchill barely escaped assassination during his visit to the United States in June 1942, Michael F. Kelly, who headed the White House secret service detail during much of the Roosevelt administration, disclosed in this week's Saturday Evening Post.

Mr. Kelly says British authorities rewarded his efforts to have Churchill's plane take off elsewhere than the public British Overseas airport at Baltimore as the prime minister prepared to leave the United States. He said secret service men were ordered to accompany him to the plane, and one, John Chandler, overpowered a field guard who was muttering: "I'm going to kill that—Churchill!" The guard later was judged insane and was committed to an institution.

C.N.R. Plans Buy Manitoba Railways

WINNIPEG, (CP) — The Canadian National Railways filed an application in chambers court Wednesday for permission to pay $7,000,000 into the Manitoba court of king's bench on an option to purchase the lines of the Manitoba Railway company, a subsidiary of the Northern Pacific railway.

Option to purchase is contained in a 999-year lease given in 1901 to the Manitoba government. The option was later turned over to the Canadian Northern railway, which subsequently was merged with other lines into the C.N.R.

The lines of the Manitoba Railway company have been operated on a rental basis by the C.N.R. since the merger. Total rentals have exceeded $11,000,000.

McGeer Declares Danger at Home

VICTORIA (CP) — Senator G. G. McGeer, at the 34th annual convention of Pacific coast building officials here Tuesday, said North America's greatest danger came not from Moscow, but from those charged with administration of public affairs who are gambling on another depression and unemployment.

"Of course, there's some danger in Moscow," he said, "but the real danger is right here if we impose again on our people the artificial importance of the 1930's. Our danger is from the incompetence of men charged with the administration of our own affairs."

"We've been led white by financial medicine men who seem to have convinced everybody that only they can understand the imperativeness of high finance," he said. "This kind of nonsense has had its day."

Canada has a grandstand seat for world affairs, he told American delegates. If in America can't find some way of getting along with Joe Stalin in Moscow, we in Canada will be in a very interesting position. Stalin can't get at you unless he comes through us, and we have entered into a bargain with him that we won't let him get at you."

North America need have no fear of the continuance of its present system of freedom and opportunity as long as the ordinary people have work and good living conditions. It is your great duty to see that decent homes are put up as soon as possible.
